

Barry Weiner is deeply committed to his work representing people with disabilities and their families. As an involved husband and father to special education professionals, he combines his personal experience with his legal training to help families advocate and attain the services and support systems that they are entitled to.

His expert drafting and thorough document review will ensure that your child's special needs trust will accomplish the asset protection and benefit entitlement goals sought.

Mr. Weiner lectures and provides seminars on estate planning and elder law issues such as Medicaid/Medicare and Special needs Trusts.

Mr. Weiner earned his Juris Doctorate degree from New York Law School. He was an adjunct professor at Wagner College and is admitted to practice in New Jersey, New York and the U.S. Tax Court and Court of Claims.

DOING GOOD THINGS FOR GOOD PEOPLE!

SPECIAL EDUCATION

Every child is entitled to a free, appropriate education, whether at a regular public school, with specialized support services or a special private school, if necessary. Meaningful services can be secured for individuals over the age of 21, but only if proper planning is done.

SPECIAL NEEDS TRUSTS

This planning device allows a person with disabilities to receive legal settlements, gifts, will bequests or other assets without losing eligibility for certain government programs. It can allow a person to receive money to enhance their quality of life while maintaining their eligibility for government programs such as Social Security.

ESTATE PLANNING

To ensure eligibility for services or benefits, both now and in the future, a carefully planned will is essential to ensure the protection of family members and family assets.

GUARDIANSHIP/DECISION MAKING

There may come a time when you feel it necessary to become legally empowered to make decisions for another unable to make decisions for themselves. This can be accomplished through the use of guardianships, durable powers of attorney and living wills as well as other documents and court proceedings.

HEALTH CARE

Specialized legal services can help infants, toddlers, children and adults get the medical services, therapies, procedures and community based services they require from insurance, Medicaid, Medicare and state benefit plans.

ELDER LAW

As one gets older, nursing home placement or home assistance may become unavoidable. This can be very expensive. Proper planning, to legally transfer assets among family members, can allow care to be obtained without exhausting family assets.
